THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O! say, can you see by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there;
O! say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave?

HAIL TO OLD I.U.

Come and join in song together,
Shout with might and main;
Our beloved Alma Mater,
Sound her praise again.

Chorus

Gloriana, Frangipana,
E'er to her be true;
She's the pride of Indiana,
Hail to old I.U.!

—Joe T. Giles, Class of 1894

COMMENCEMENT TRADITIONS

Today we celebrate the fifty-seventh Commencement exercises of IU Indianapolis, representing the culmination and proud recognition of our graduates' academic achievements.

The ceremony is rich in academic tradition and protocol, and includes Commencement addresses by university leaders, remarks by other speakers, and the conferral of degrees.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

All candidates for degrees and those who hold these degrees, including university officials, faculty, and visiting dignitaries, are attired in traditional caps and gowns.

Caps

Most candidates for degrees wear square caps (called mortarboards) adorned with tassels that reflect the schools from which they are graduating. These tassel colors, which are largely standard across the United States, are:

Art and Design—Brown
Business—Drab
Dentistry—Lilac
Education—Light Blue
Health and Human
Sciences—Sage Green
Informatics, Computing, and Engineering—Copper
Law—Royal Purple
Liberal Arts—White
Medicine—Kelly Green
Nursing—Apricot
Philanthropy—Nile Green
Public and Environmental Affairs—Peacock Blue
Public Health—Salmon
Science—Golden Yellow
Social Work—Citron
Ph.D.—Royal Blue

Doctoral candidates may wear either a mortarboard or a velvet tam, adorned with a tassel reflecting the school from which they are graduating.

Gowns

The gowns for bachelor's and associate degree recipients have a closed front and open sleeves. The master's gown has extremely long, closed sleeves, from which the arms extend through a slit at the wrist; the end of the sleeve is with an arc cut away just above the bottom.

The doctoral gown has velvet panels down the front and voluminous bell-shaped sleeves, on which there are three velveteen bars. The velveteen is usually black, but may also reflect the color of the discipline.

Hoods

Master's and doctoral degree candidates also wear hoods, which are not actually head coverings but stoles, edged in velvet and lined in satin, that flow down the wearer's back. The color of the velvet edging reflects the academic discipline; the satin lining reflects the institution granting the degree. Thus, Indiana University hoods are lined in cream and crimson.

The edging colors most frequently seen are dark blue for philosophy, green for medicine, purple for law, and lilac for dentistry. The colors of honorary doctoral degrees include royal purple for law, white for letters, and golden yellow for science.

Honor Cords

Indiana University bachelor's degree candidates who have achieved excellence in scholarship are entitled to wear honor cords (fourragères) on the left shoulder.

At Indiana University, the cords are cream and crimson, with combined cream and crimson representing highest distinction, cream representing high distinction, and crimson representing distinction. These awards are made by vote of the various faculties; the cords are provided by the university.

Candidates for associate degrees wear their cords draped around their necks.

These honors are indicated in this program after the students' names.

Honor Cords for Veterans and Service Members

Graduating students who have served or are currently serving in the U.S. Armed Forces wear red, white, and blue cords.

Honor Cords for Honor Societies
Graduates who are members of nearly 60 nationally recognized honor societies may wear their societies' honor cords or medallions during Commencement.

THE HISTORY OF ACADEMIC ATTIRE

Academic costume has a history of nearly eight centuries. In medieval Europe, many townspeople wore long robes and gowns. The materials and colors varied according to the wealth and rank of the individual and were governed by royal decree. Gradually, there developed distinctive gowns for the various professions, trades, and guilds.

Students in the medieval universities of Paris, Bologna, Oxford, and Cambridge organized themselves into guilds. Their usual garb, a long gown, was necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings. Scholars, who were generally members of church orders, wore these robes and also hoods to protect their shaved heads. Later, skullcaps were worn on the head, and the hood became a cape that could be pulled over the head in unpleasant weather. As additional universities were founded, distinctive forms of the gown and hood were adapted by their faculties for bachelors (apprentices of arts), masters (teachers), and doctors (teachers who had completed postgraduate studies). The variations appeared mostly in the hood and were regulated by strict rules. Tailors who departed from the authorized design could be punished. When caps and hats came into fashion in the fifteenth century, the hoods became ornamental, draped over the shoulders and down the back.

The academic hat was adapted from the headdress of the ordinary people. It was first worn as a symbol of the master's degree and existed in various forms. Some caps were stiff, some soft, some square, some round with a tuft in the center. The tassel of today is an elaboration of the tuft. The mortarboard style comes to us from Oxford.

When academic costume came to America in 1754, styles were quite varied. In Europe, they still are, but in the United States, standardized rules for academic regalia were enacted in 1895 with the passage of the Intercollegiate Code (updated in 1932 and 1959). The code, created by an intercollegiate commission, prescribed the cut and style and materials of the gowns, as well as determined the colors that were to represent the different fields of learning.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS SPEAKER

WENDY R. TRUEBLOOD
MILLER, BSN'03, MSN'08,
PHD'11

Wendy R. Trueblood Miller is a professor, Sally Reahard Endowed Chair, director of the Center for Enhancing Quality of Life in Chronic Illness, and executive associate dean of research at the IU School of Nursing. She has been an Indiana University faculty member for 14 years.

Professor Miller is a three-time alumna of IU and remains a lifelong Hoosier. She is a fellow of the American Academy of Nursing and the American Epilepsy Society. In July 2026, she will be inducted into the Sigma Theta Tau International Nurse Researcher Hall of Fame.

Professor Miller's independent research program generates knowledge to advance science in chronic condition self-management, with a particular focus on adults with epilepsy. She improves the quality of life for people with epilepsy via patient-centered interventions. Her interdisciplinary team includes researchers from nursing, public health, informatics, law, and medicine. Professor Miller analyzes complex systems in social media data. She integrates the authentic patient's voice into condition management interventions and clinical practice through patient-generated data, including large-scale social media and digital health data. She directs the Social Network Health Research Lab at the IU School of Nursing and oversees interdisciplinary projects that capture patient voices.

By analyzing patients' language, concerns, and experiences, Professor Miller's work informs scalable, patient-centered interventions. She shapes national guidelines and improves communication about symptoms of burden, patient concerns, and outcomes.

Professor Miller has secured substantial funding from the National Institutes of Health and authored over 70 publications. She is also a co-leader of the newly launched Irsay Institute at IU Bloomington.

Professor Miller is a highly sought-after mentor, and her commitment to training undergraduate students, doctoral trainees, postdoctoral fellows, and early-career faculty fosters widespread trainee success, independent research programs, and funded academic careers.

GRADUATE STUDENT COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

IVANA A. DANIELS

Ivana A. Daniels graduates today with a Doctor of Philosophy in pharmacology from the Indiana University School of Medicine with a minor in microbiology and immunology. Her dissertation is based on respiratory syncytial virus (RSV) and human metapneumovirus (hMPV), respiratory viruses that primarily affect children. Previously, Daniels earned a Bachelor of Arts in biology and religious studies from the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Virginia.

Daniels has served as a predoctoral research assistant at the Herman B Wells Center for Pediatric Research, working under the mentorship of Dr. Benjamin Gaston. Her research focuses on applying molecular biology techniques to investigate therapeutic targets for RSV and hMPV. In addition to this work, she provides scientific and professional mentorship to undergraduate, graduate, and pediatric pulmonary trainees.

Daniels has presented her research at conferences ranging from local to international levels, including the European Respiratory Society Congress, American Society for Virology, American Society for Pharmacology and Experimental Therapeutics, and American Thoracic Society International Conference.

In 2026, Daniels was recognized as one of the Indiana University Indianapolis Elite 50, which honors graduate and professional students who demonstrate excellence beyond the classroom through campus leadership, scholarly work, and community engagement.

She received the National Institutes of Health (NIH)-IU T32 award, formally known as the Ruth L.

Kirschstein Institutional National Research Service Award (NRSA) Institutional Research Training Grant, for Molecular Physiology and Clinical Mechanisms of Lung Disease, which provides funding for predoctoral and postdoctoral researchers in areas with a shortage of medical research.

Previous grants and awards Daniels has received include the NASA Doctoral Fellowship, through the Indiana Space Grant Consortium; the Scholar Mentoring & Development Program Scholar; the International Collaborative Asthma Network Scholar Travel Award; and the American Thoracic Society Underrepresented Trainee Development Award. In 2024, she was also recognized as the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology Student Mentor of the Year.

Daniels is actively involved in leadership roles on committees dedicated to professional development and science outreach. She is a member of the American Thoracic Society, European Respiratory Society, and the American Society for Pharmacology and Experimental Therapeutics.

Following graduation, she will transition into a role in science communication, working as a scientific liaison between clinical trials and healthcare providers, with a focus on translating complex data into clear, actionable insights that advance patient care.

UNDERGRADUATE STUDENT COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

SNEHVIRI KAUR

Snehvir Kaur arrived at IU Indianapolis from India and graduates today with a Bachelor of Science in neuroscience. During her undergraduate career, she has distinguished herself through various honors including the Hoosier Family Scholarship, Dean's List, and Top 100 award.

Kaur embodies a strong commitment to research, contributing to work in the Hydrocephalus Research Lab and the Stark Neuroscience Research Institute, where she supported studies focused on neurological conditions and behavioral outcomes.

She has also participated in the New Humanities Research Lab, where she conducted research and produced a published podcast project.

Beyond the classroom, Kaur has demonstrated a dedication to scholarship and campus engagement. She has been involved in campus initiatives through Undergraduate Student Government, the Pre-Med Club, and as a resident assistant, where she collaborated with university staff to support student well-being and engagement.

She is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Eta Sigma Honors Societies, as well as the Dedicated to Enrichment, Achievement, and Persistence Program.

Kaur's pursuits reflect her commitment to academic excellence, inclusive community engagement, and helping her peers grow through mentorship. She aspires to become a physician who delivers compassionate, patient-centered care while working to improve access to healthcare and communication for underserved and underrepresented communities.

GRADUATE AND UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE RECIPIENTS

This Commencement program should be regarded as a preliminary document, pending confirmation of all degrees. It includes graduates whose degrees were conferred and honors awarded from September through December 2025, and candidates for degrees and honors from January through August 2026. Degrees and honors will be conferred after the completion of all requirements is verified.

Students who receive their degrees through the Indiana University Indianapolis Honors College are indicated with an asterisk (*) to the right of their names. The criteria for this distinction are 24 credit hours in Honors work with at least a 3.3 grade point average and a minimum overall grade point average of 3.3.
